

Disaster Medicine / Emergency Preparedness

The challenge:

You can't predict when or where in the world a significant event will strike, or how it will impact the lives and health of people. Knowing what to do before, during and after an emergency is critical.

The solution:

Partners HealthCare International (PHI) and Massachusetts General Hospital Center for Disaster Medicine (MGH-CDM) offer a proven methodology for preparing for, mitigating against, responding to and recovering from disaster.

Working together at every stage of the disaster lifecycle.
